Two Women Brutally Beaten, Then Robbed

REAL ESTATE DEALER IS HELD FOR CRIMES

Their Cries and Struggles Force Assailant to Disappear

SENSATIONAL ARREST MADE IN SALOON

Stolen Goods Are Found in Possession of Man Accused

Edward L. Niessen, a real estate man of Elmhurst, residing at 1109 East Nineteenth street, Oakland, is in a cell in the County Jail, facing serious charges brought by two women, Mrs. F. Brashear, 1069 Harland avenue, Elmhurst, and Mrs. E. L. Laughlin, formerly of Elmhurst, but who now resides in San Francisco.

Both were attacked and robbed last night in Elmhurst and that they were not criminally assaulted, they state, is due to the fact that their screams and struggles frightened off the assailant before he could but partially carry out his purpose.

The attack took place shortly after 11 o'clock at different places and within the course of fifteen minutes. Both women were beaten by the man. Mrs. Laughlin was robbed of a purse containing $1.00, and Mrs. Brashear was robbed of a small box of crackers which the fellow took, evidently thinking it her purse.

Accused By Women
Conclusive evidence, which incriminates Niessen's guilt almost certainly, say the authorities, was established by a remarkable coincidence.

After the attacks both women hastened to Snowbell's saloon, near the scene of the crime, where they reported the occurrence. While Mrs. Brashear was talking in the saloon, and asked for a drink, it was immediately accused by the woman and Constable William C. Allen notified.

A search by the officer resulted in the finding of Mrs. Laughlin's purse and the package carried by Mrs. Brashear. Niessen admitted his guilt but could not explain the presence of the stolen articles.

Mrs. Brashear, when seen today, at her home in Elmhurst, charged Niessen with attempting a serious offense. She said:

"I was walking down Fourteenth street, when at the corner of Water avenue, the fellow spoke to me saying, 'If you, sweetheart, I respect you and then he threw his arms at me, hugged me and attempted to throw me to the ground."

"I caught him off and suddenly growling again, the brute struck me a fearful blow in the mouth with his fist. I fell and he tried to run to Snowbell's saloon, but a few minutes before Mrs. Laughlin."

Tells Same Story
"I have known him for a long time and my opinion is that the only safe place for him is behind bars. If he had not been for the fact of my seeing him, I believe he would have been arrested long ago."

Mrs. Laughlin told almost the identical story of assault and robbery to Constable Allen, who arrested Niessen and turned him over to the sheriff's office. Mrs. Brashear will institute charges at once, she says.

Niessen is a married man but according to Mrs. Brashear, is separated from his wife.

Sues for $10,000 for Heart Balm, Claiming She Has Been Deserted for Another

MISS BLANCHE RIVARD, Who Is Suing Frank S. Betancourt for $10,000 for Breach of Promise.

Declaring she has been cast aside for another woman, now that her beauty is fading, Miss Blanche Rivard, a seamstress, living with her mother and sister at 829 Telegraph avenue, has brought suit for $10,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry, against Frank S. Betancourt, oil dealer and prominent member of the Order of Red Men.

The woman alleges that she met and loved Betancourt six years ago, giving up a young man to whom she was engaged at that time, to go with him as his wife. They lived together for five years or more as man and wife, and though, she says, Betancourt was never good to her, they were comparatively happy.

Then about a year ago a second woman appeared on the scene in the person of Miss J. Stanley, a divorcee, living in Golden Gate, who Miss Rivard alleges, has influenced Betancourt to mortgage his business and his home to procure money for her extravagances.

Supreme Court Grants the Prosecution a Rehearing In the Louis Glass Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The petition of the prosecution for a rehearing in the case of Louis Glass, vice-president of the Pacific States Telephone Co., who was convicted of bribery by a jury in 1907, was granted by the Supreme Court of the State today. The defendant recently was granted a new trial by the Appellate Court upon errors alleged to have been discovered in the proceedings of the trial court.

Today's decision indicates that the Supreme Court does not altogether agree with the findings of the intermediate tribunal, and will necessitate a review of all the points presented on appeal. The rehearing probably will be deferred until the final term of court.

Wireless Telegraphy Saves Passengers on Wrecked Ship

PUNTA DEL GADA, Azores, June 12.—Wireless telegraphy played a prominent part in the saving of the crew and passengers of the Canadian Slavonia, which today is a total wreck two miles south-west of Flores Island. The wireless feat of the steamer Republic was equalled, if not excelled.

Shortly before midnight of Wednesday, June 9, wireless distress signals were received on board the Princess Irene. The operator answered and received a message in reply saying that the Slavonia was ashore, giving her location and asking the Princess Irene to come to her assistance.

The Princess Irene arrived at the side of the Slavonia Thursday afternoon. All Thursday night was taken up with the transfer of the 110 first-class passengers, men, women and children. Early Friday morning the Princess Irene left the Slavonia for Gibraltar. In the meantime the Slavonia had been rescued by the Hamburg-American Line steamer Batavia, which also hastened to the scene of the wreck. The intermediate and storage passengers of the Slavonia were transferred without accident to that vessel.

The Princess Irene was 180 miles distant from the Slavonia. She went ahead full speed to the designated location, two miles southwest of Flores Island.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 12.—Breeding over the death of his fiancée, Raymond Heintzelmann, aged 20 years, of Bowmanstown, Pa., swallowed poison yesterday, and then hurrying to the cemetery, shot himself through the heart at the grave dug for Miss Florence Rehrig, aged 18 years. On Memorial Day the young couple were out driving and met with an accident, which caused the young woman's death on Wednesday of this week.

100 KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE THAT ROCKS FRANCE

LISBON ALSO FEELS SWAYING OF EARTH

Troops Rushed to Aid of Homeless Victims of Disturbance

PARIS, June 12.—Dispatches received here from the south of France, where a series of earthquakes were experienced last night, say the shocks were felt in the coast departments from the Alps through to the Atlantic. The people everywhere were greatly alarmed and the oscillations were sufficiently severe to displace masonry and in a few instances to shake down houses.

Thousands of persons slept last night in the parks and abroad hosts. The shocks were followed by violent hail storms.

Towns Are Ruined
PARIS, June 12.—According to the latest reports to reach here from the south of France, the towns of St. Cannat and Rognes were completely ruined by the earthquake that visited that territory last night.

A large proportion of the houses were damaged and those still standing are cracked and threaten to fall at any moment.

Death and Destruction
MARSEILLES, June 12.—The earthquake shock last night was most severe in the departments of Herault and Bouches-du-Rhone. There are fifteen dead at Lambesc, ten at Steennot and twenty at Rognes. It is believed that the total of dead will reach 100. The temperature has fallen sharply.

Food supplies are being despatched to the afflicted districts and two battalions of troops have been sent forward to aid in the work of rescuing the wounded from the ruins.

Many of the villages in the district are cut off from communication by telegraph, but as the news that does come in here shows that the situation is worse than at first supposed, relief is being rushed in all directions. At Luss Ste. Raparde, two persons lost their lives and there was much destruction of property. At Doncles the church collapsed and a woman died of fright.

Lisbon Feels Shock
LISBON, June 12.—There was a trembling of the earth here last night, accompanied by subterranean rumblings.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 12.—Dancing to the sound of music in the First Universalist Church is to be the weekly diversion of a number of young people of the church.

Rev. E. Dean Ellinwood, the pastor, said today of the dancing:

"I consider dancing an innocent and healthful amusement. I do not believe in letting the devil have all the good things."

The church is planning to arrange a stage where amateur theatrical performances may be given frequently by the Players' Club of the church, which is already organized.

Tries to Amputate His Injured Toe

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—When Achilles Pattus found that his foot had been run over and crushed by two tons of lumber at 1 o'clock this afternoon, he calmly pulled out his shoe, and proceeded to amputate one of his toes with a pocketknife.

The accident occurred in the yard of the Rinehart planing mill at Sixteenth and Kansas streets, and Paul Behin, another employee, who was a witness to it, interrupted Pattus in his surgery, and had him conveyed to the Mission Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Beasley discovered that the foot was very badly broken.

The animal pounced upon the little girl and fastened his teeth four times in her left cheek.

She was treated by Dr. Topham at the Central Emergency Hospital. The dog is believed to be the same canine which a week ago bit two other persons. He is a large St. Bernard, twice the size of the Lippy girl.

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—At the close of a stormy session of the stockholders of the Cordillera Mining Company last night, Charles W. McCrossan, a former Baptist minister and promoter, was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses on complaint of several of the stockholders of the company, who charged him with writing an extravagant prospectus of the mine, upon which he sold large blocks of stock. McCrossan gave $5000 bail. The mine is located in Mexico.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The mystery of the disappearance of Mary Snyder, 5 years old, who has been missing from her home since May 2, was cleared yesterday when her body was found floating in the Illinois and Michigan canal at Ashland avenue. The child had ended her life because she was ashamed to return to her home after having been discharged from her employment under an accusation of theft. LURE OF FINE CLOTHES IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

WEEPS WHEN GUILTY IS TOLD HUSBAND

Startling Story Brought Out by Clever Work of Authorities

BERKELEY, June 12.—The mystery of a chain of crime, extending over six months, in the links of which are forgery, theft, burglary and other lesser offences, has been solved in the arrest of a pretty and fashionably gowned young woman, Mrs. Albert Thurnher, wife of an employee of the Marshall Steel Mercantile Co.

The prisoner, who is but 21 years of age, claims to be the daughter of a former superior court judge of Los Angeles. She is regarded by the police as one of the cleverest criminals of her sex they have ever come in contact with. With dexterity she has succeeded in avoiding capture for many weeks, although being carefully watched.

When arrested yesterday at a pretty home at 1911 Henry street, the police found $170 worth of jewelry and silverware hidden in various places in the rooms and lawn. She can point to many interesting incidents which almost defy belief for their boldness and astuteness.

Married Eight Months
This female Raffles has been married but eight months, and as soon as the honeymoon was over, according to the police, she turned her attention to crime. She began with a forgery which was carried through with marvelous dexterity and her youth and apparent innocence saved her at the time from prosecution. Emboldened at the success of her first venture, she undertook petty thefts and was soon launched as a full-fledged burglar, working with a speed and cunning that was the despair of the police.

At one time, when caught in the house of one of her victims, she escaped by leaping through a second-story window and disappearing with the speed of a hare. It was the sort of theft of a carpet cleaner that led to her undoing. When confronted with this charge at her home yesterday she maintained her innocence with a composure that disconcerted Chief of Police Vollmer and Detectives Woods and Jameson.

Wants Pretty Things
Back of her crimes is a desperate dress and the good things of life. "I JUST WANTED PRETTY AND NICE THINGS, AND I WAS GOING TO GET THEM," SAID THE PRETTY PRISONER WHEN CONFRONTED WITH EVIDENCES OF HER CRIMES IN THE OFFICE OF HER CHIEF OF POLICE. "THERE WAS NO FUN IN BEING POOR. I WANTED FINE CLOTHES LIKE THE RICH GIRLS, AND I WAS GETTING THEM. OH, IT'S TOO BAD." THEN CAME THE REPORT TO TEARS.

Mrs. Thurnher, according to her own confession, essayed her first serious exploit at thwarting the laws and the police when on Christmas day last she made a tour of the Bon Air apartments at the corner of Klitbridge street and Shattuck avenue in search of jewelry. It was not a profitable piece of work, the plunder amounting to about $20 worth of finery which Mrs. A. M. Strong, the proprietress, subsequently recovered.

Once the plunge was made, the girl

Will of Member of Old Spanish
Family Comes Up For Probate

ENTIRE PROPERTY IS

California Ranch and Improve-

cluded in Will

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The will of the late Mrs. Maria C. de la Vega, a member of one of the oldest Spanish families in the State, whose death is settled here, was filed in the probate court this morning.

The estate is valued at over $2,000,000, and letters of administration were asked for by Mrs. Maria Josefa de la Vega, a sister of the deceased.

The will also nominated Michael A. de la Vega as executor, and the delay in settling the will for probate is due to the fact that both the executor and the executor named were at the time of the death of the deceased.

The will is dated June 1, 1902, and leaves the entire estate to relatives. It is composed of lands known as the Rancho de la Vega, in the county of San Diego, and the Rancho de la Vega, in the county of San Diego, and the Rancho de la Vega, in the county of San Diego.

WANTED TO SEE WIFE BURNING

Alice E. Bellus Tells Court of Troubles and Gets Interlocutory Decree

Alice E. Bellus has secured an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court from William J. Bellus on the ground of extreme cruelty. The couple were married in this city in August, 1905. According to Mrs. Bellus, defendant is a man of very violent temper and in frequent fits of rage he had a penchant for picking up knives and threatening to stab her or drawing a revolver and threatening to shoot. Scarcely a day passed when her husband would make some assault upon her. One day he became angry at the dinner table and, after scattering most of the dishes over the floor, grabbed her and tried to throw her out of the house. He often told her she should be dead, and that he would stand by and see her burning in the devil's furnace.

Every time her husband left the room Mrs. Bellus was afraid he would turn around and shoot her in the back, she told the court. "I was afraid he would stab me, too," she said, "and at night I would lay awake for fear he would kill me before morning. The morning I left him, he was going to kill me with a knife. He said he would like to see my head in a frying pan. One day he was going to stab me with a knife and a neighbor came in the door, and even then he chased me out of the house."

Bellus often slapped and choked his wife, and when he got mad at the table, if he had a piece of bread in his hand he would throw it at her face. And all the time this was going on at home he would be telling his friends that he had the best little wife in the world.

THIEVES LOOT LUBELSKI HOME

Nearly $500 in Jewelry Is Taken By Burglars; Police Investigate

Burglars broke into the home of Tony Lubelski, formerly proprietor of the Nevada Theater in this city, at 1614 Telegraph avenue some time last night and stole a quantity of silverware and jewelry. Entrance was gained by means of a "jimmy," the dining-room window being forced.

The thieves secured in all twenty-four pieces of silverware and jewelry, valued at approximately $500.

Captain of Detectives Peterson has a good description of the loot and may be able to recover at least a portion of it.

RELANCE TEAM TO MEET REDWOOD CITY

PRISONER MAY BE GIRL'S SLAYER

Declares He Saw 3 Tramps Commit Atrocious Crime in Los Angeles

IMPERIAL, Cal., June 12.—Ludwig Wolman, the irresponsible German held in jail at Brawley as a result of a planned assault on a young woman at that place, may be the much-sought murderer of Annie Poltera at Los Angeles. It is impossible to tell from the man's own admissions whether he was concerned in the crime or not. His statements are contradictory. On one occasion he said he had not been in Los Angeles for six years and again stated that three hoboes killed Annie Poltera and he was present at the time.

A large pocket knife, whittled to a razor edge, was found on Wolman when he was arrested. With such a weapon the little Poltera girl may have been slain. Sheriff Hammer of Los Angeles is expected here today and if suspicion points at Wolman he will be taken to Los Angeles to answer for the Poltera murder. Otherwise he will be tried at Brawley on a burglary charge.

WILL ESTABLISH BELL AT EL CAMINO REAL

IRVINGTON, June 12.—The El Camino Real bell and sign post, which is to be erected at Irvington during the week will be dedicated on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony will be very interesting and a large attendance is expected.

The erection of these bell posts was first started by the El Camino Real association whose plan it is to establish a continuous and beautiful highway from the northern part of the State to the southern end.

As the missions have always been an attraction it is desired to place a bell before each and at the junctions of the roads as well to point the way to travelers and also to establish a landmark particularly before those missions which have so nearly crumbled into the past.

This work has been taken up by the historic and landmarks section of the Federation of Women's Clubs of the State and also by other organizations interested in improving and beautifying their localities.

The bell post at Irvington is being erected by the Irvington Ladies' Aid Society assisted by a donation from the Country Club of Washington township.

FIND NO TRACE OF ELOPING COUPLE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Not a trace of William and Flora Colby, the latter the wife of Thomas Colby, who alleges that the couple eloped from his home at 1223 Franklin street on last Thursday, taking with them a check for $300 and all the clothing owned by Thomas, has been found by the police, in spite of the efforts to locate of the elopement. The couple were last seen leaving their flight eastward by telegraphic communication with all points through which the supposed unfaithful brother and wife would be forced to reach eastern, southern, or northern points.

HOLDS UP SALARY OF SLEUTH BURNS

Standing of Assistant District Attorney Robert Harrison Is Also Attacked

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The status of Assistant District Attorney Robert Harrison and his authority to act as a deputy under the district attorney of this city has been attacked by an injunction suit filed this morning against John A. Koster, the auditor, and William L. Langdon in an effort to prevent the payment of his June salary.

The complaint is sworn to by John L. Hughes, a local taxpayer, and by John A. Koster, the auditor, and by William L. Langdon, an attorney, to look out for his interests.

In the same manner a similar injunction is asked restraining the auditor from paying the salary of William J. Burns and his corps of sleuths, for the current month, the amount involved being $2650.

Has Salary of $250

Hughes claims that Harrison was appointed May 29, 1906, under a special enactment of the board of supervisors, and that he holds his position in violation of the charter, which provides that there shall be only seven assistant district attorneys. A section of the complaint reads:

"That at the time of the appointment of the said Harrison, the said Langdon had already appointed seven assistant district attorneys, for whose appointment provision is made in the charter of the said city and county, and that said Harrison never was appointed or has ever acted as one of the seven assistant district attorneys provided for by the provision of the charter."

Harrison is in receipt of a monthly stipend of $250.

After Burns' Sleuths

The complaint in the Burns' restraining order is similar to that filed some time ago, and requests that no payment be made of June salaries on the ground that the appointment of Burns and his staff is in violation of the charter and that they have not earned their money in the way provided for.

The itemized account submitted by Langdon is quoted and reads as follows:

WILLIAM J. BURNS	$2625
RAYMOND J. BURNS	150
M. T. DOYLE	150
R. J. KELLY	150
J. D. LAWLOR	150
J. McLAUGHLIN	125

ELOPES WITH HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

William Colby Comes From the Antipodes and Flees With Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The journey of William Colby, who eloped with Flora Colby, the wife of his brother Thomas, and whom the police have been searching for since Thursday, will probably be cut short today when it is expected they will be arrested at Paso Robles.

The first clue as to their whereabouts was furnished to the local authorities by a wire from Santa Cruz, where the mother of the woman in the case informed the police that she had received a letter from her daughter from Paso Robles. A telegram was immediately sent to the marshal at that place to arrest both of the fugitives, and they may be charged with grand larceny in addition to a more serious offense.

Thomas Colby and his wife, Flora, were living happily at their home, 1223 Franklin street in this city, when William put in an appearance from the Antipodes, he fell in love with Flora, and taking $300 of Thomas' money and valuables amounting to $100 more, the pair made their escape on Wednesday during the temporary absence of the lord and master of the house.

BUSY MEETING IS HELD BY COUNCIL

All License Matters Disposed of; Park Commission Considers Bettering Streets

ALAMEDA, June 12.—Business was transacted by the council of the city of Alameda, which met at 8 o'clock last night. Councilman Sumner Crosby was absent. Present were Councilmen J. H. Walker, it was recommended that three dog licenses be given the fire department for its dogs.

Dovell Brothers' application for permission to improve Fountain street from Broadway to San Jose street, and Madison street from Court to High street was recommended to be granted.

Superintendent of Streets N. J. Proden reported that Johnson avenue from Court to Mount street, and Blanding avenue from Oak to Park street had been completed to his satisfaction.

A communication from Jesse L. Greenbaum relative to planning streets along the streets and beautifying Alameda alone was referred to the park commission.

It was recommended that Chief Cliffland be granted a gratuitous license to peddle notices.

Upon the report of the fire committee it was recommended that the application of the fire insurance company for a boiler at 1523 Park street be denied.

The license committee is to take up the matter of the license of the dog breeders who come here in their wagons to sell their produce and to buy goods from the city go-by because they are arrested when they come here with no wagon license.

APPOINTMENT OF MAY AS DOG-CATCHER FAVORED

ALAMEDA, June 12.—John J. May is to be postmaster of this city if the recommendation of the committee of the whole of the city council to the appointment of May as postmaster is adopted last night. May is now serving in the city as postmaster and has died an $100 bond. May was appointed postmaster by former Mayor E. K. Taylor, but his appointment was rejected by the council and the late Mayor, being who was ousted by Taylor, was re-elected. Ewing died recently, however, and May is to be given the position.

HELPS TO PROVE WIFE CRIMINAL

Young Woman Who Admits Thefts to Police Is Pretty and Educated

wife seems to have become enamored of the pursuit of the devious way. The day following her raid on the Bessie Apartments Mrs. Thurnherr walked in on the postoffice and presented a money order made in favor of Mrs. R. B. Ritchie of 6410 Wheeler street and drawn at Drain, Ore., by her husband. It was a check for $200.00 and was cashed by Mrs. Thurnherr, who with her husband then occupied apartments at the Ritchie home.

Tossing the money order nonchalantly in front of Miss Mary Hall, the money order clerk at the postoffice, Mrs. Thurnherr asked for the cash specified, $22.

"But I don't know you," said Miss Hall, "you must be identified."

"You don't know me," said Mrs. Thurnherr, arching her eyebrows, in feigned mild surprise, "why, I have had orders cashed here before. I am Mrs. Ritchie. Surely you remember me. Think again, and look closely."

Miss Hall did look, and the face before her was apparently so guileless that the money order was cashed without further questioning. The following day Mrs. Thurnherr was arrested, but her woman's wit and ready tears stood her in good stead. She was forgiven, and even cajoled by the motherly Mrs. Ritchie, who ascribed the crime to the vagaries of a young wife.

Takes Clothing

A few days later Thurnherr and his pretty wife moved to the Ridgway apartments at 1830 Center street. On February 8 Mrs. Thurnherr, the proprietress, was surprised to find that her trunks had been broken into during her absence and a number of articles of underwear taken. This fiery Mrs. Thurnherr appropriated to her own use. She was beginning to accumulate nice things to wear, and her appetite for more was sharpened.

The young husband and wife moved early in March to a pretty cottage at 1811 Henry street, where Mrs. Thurnherr was a promising field for her operations. Mrs. Thurnherr, according to a confession made this morning to Chief of Police Vollmer, entered the house during the absence of Mrs. Henry and the family in Oakland, and had the young woman had gathered to her the sum of $200 in silverware and money when she was surprised by the unexpected return of Mrs. Henry.

Leaps From Window

Mrs. Thurnherr, finding her escape cut off by the front door, was puzzled what to do. Her confusion gave way to outright fear when she realized that she was in Mrs. Henry's own bedroom and that the mistress of the house was at the moment on the way to it.

"There was nothing for me to do but to get out of the house," said Mrs. Thurnherr, "and when I saw that I was in Mrs. Henry's own bedroom and that the mistress of the house was at the moment on the way to it."

Mrs. Henry opened the door of her bedroom just in time to see the shadow of the skirts of the thief flashing out the window, but before she could give the alarm Mrs. Thurnherr had disappeared and the clew was lost.

Hidden in Barrels

The effort was well rewarded, the loss being over $700 consisting of jewelry and silverware. It was the plan of the police to uncover in a search of the Thurnherr premises yesterday. It had been hidden carefully in ash barrels, in old books and trunks. The haul and cry raised over the burglary caused the pretty thief from attempting to dispose of any of her belongings and she was hiding her opportunity when her plans were discovered by the swoop of the police and her arrest and incarceration in the town jail.

Confesses to Crimes

Mrs. Thurnherr spent the night in the city jail. When taking her into custody yesterday afternoon the police observed the utmost secrecy in movement. They were anxious to prevent interference on the part of possible friends of the young woman from the outside. Mrs. Thurnherr was locked up in the office of Fire Chief James Kenney, and two detectives spent the entire day taking her statements. At first rebellious and defiant, under the pressure of the officers she broke down to a full confession of the most of the crimes with which she is charged. A night spent by herself on an improvised couch in the court room of Justice of the Peace Robert Baker made her still more amenable to police influence, and this morning she detailed to a stenographer an amazing story of her life as a young woman and wife. She was booked on a charge of burglary of the Girvin home, and almost immediately hurried into the police court, where, after the usual preliminaries, she was held to await trial before the Superior Court and sent to the county jail.

Husband With Her

The young woman spent some half hours in the private office of Chief of Police Vollmer. She was fearful and crying by turns, and her intermittent and varying remarks related the work of securing a full confession of her account of her crimes. Her husband came with her throughout the ordeal and the police say was entirely innocent of her shortcomings.

The husband aided us materially in working the case against his wife," said Chief of Police Vollmer. "He is a native born, intelligent, and well educated. He knew nothing whatever of the matter. His brother, a young college student, also gave us valuable information."

Young and Educated

Private Gifts for Public Parks.

The donation made this week to the municipality by F. M. Smith, which approximates $80,000 in value, is a tribute to the largest gift which Oakland has received from any private source at any time in its history. But it emphasizes the fact that the city has been able to secure the services of the wealthy men and women of Oakland have been when compared with the benefactions made for public park purposes by the wealthy and public spirited citizens of other California cities.

It is an example of the gift of nearly 3000 acres which Griffith T. Griffith, a Los Angeles man, has made to the city for a public park which now bears his name and which the municipality is besting to improve. This donation of what is formerly a part of the famous Los Feliz ranch placed in the hands of American cities in the area of public parks.

San Francisco has been exceedingly fortunate in the receipt of gifts of this character from public spirited citizens. Pioneer Park which crowns the summit of Telegraph Hill was the creation of the late Captain James McDonnell.

Golden Gate Park was in its infancy in a large measure the gift of private citizens. This area comprises 1600 acres. The park has in turn been enriched by many private gifts.

The children's playground including the large brick structure which is a recent gift was created out of a donation of $50,000 by the late Senator William Sharon. Subsequently the city has received a costly memorial relief in the form of a monument.

The late Senator's gift of $60,000 for the erection of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument in the park.

Among other gifts for the adornment of Golden Gate Park were the following:

Clara Spalding's gift of a statue, $75,000.

Raising Twelfth Street Dam.

Following out the plans of the Board of Public Works for park improvements the Council on Monday night took the first step toward raising the Twelfth street dam which is to be widened between Tilton street and First avenue, elevated to the level of the new Perilla Park grounds now being formed from the marshland lying between Twelfth and Eighth streets, by appropriating $10,000 for the purpose. Like the Eighth street crossing of the north arm of the estuary the dam will ultimately be dovetailed in the general scheme of parking in the neighborhood of the lake without discontinuing its use as an ordinary thoroughfare by all kinds of high way traffic.

The Oakland Traction Company, which has the exclusive right of way across Eighth street bridge and the Twelfth street dam has voluntarily agreed to contribute its quota toward the general scheme of park improvement at these two crossings. The Eighth street bridge is practically a thing of the past already, although it will be some months before it will be opened to traffic. The long standing grievance which the people of East Oakland have had against the extension of the Twelfth street car will also pass into oblivion. When the Board of Public Works gets through not only will the grade of the approaches to the dam be practically obliterated but the surfaced roadway will be as good and durable dustless and windless as any street in the city.

It is worthy of note that the filling in of the marshland to be hereafter known as Perilla Park has nearly reached the established grade. When the dredging which have been deposited on it from the lake have drained and solidified the surface of the new land will be covered with loam and the work of actual parking performed. Then Oakland will have an additional beautified area displacing what has been for many decades a public eyesore.

Entailment of Estates.

The entailment of estates is repugnant to American law. But the late Henry H. Rogers in disposing of his vast estate estimated to be worth at least $50,000,000, has created a trust which comes pretty near accomplishing the purposes of an entailment. If the trust were attacked by the heirs it would probably be broken and the entailment of the estate thus prevented by the distribution of the property. But there is no prospect of anything of the kind happening.

Rogers disposed of his property so that the principal will remain intact until his children begin to reach their fourteenth year. Even then the distribution will be made on the basis that one half of the estate will still remain intact for the benefit of their children under similar conditions. After that this process of practical entailment may be carried on through subsequent generations in definitely if Rogers' grandchildren are disposed to perpetuate his system of inheritance.

Even in the matter of the corporate stock and personal property in which Rogers was so largely interested he has placed it in the power of the executors, with the consent of the beneficiaries to entail them also, by investing and reinvesting any property coming to them in corporate or other stocks or securities or other property of any kind or description, although the same may not be of the character permitted for trustees' investments by the ordinary rules of law. It is evident that it was the purpose of Rogers to so dispose of the great wealth which he had accumulated by devious methods so that it could be possible to retain it exclusively and perpetually by his own descendants, which is the purpose of entailing an estate.

Oakland bank clearings for the week ending Thursday amounted closely to $2,000,000, which, it is worthy of note, shows an increase of 30.5 per cent over those of the corresponding week of last year. It will therefore be observed that Oakland continues to forge ahead on the broad road of prosperity.

It grows, at its full height to nearly thirty feet, with branches spreading like a huge umbrella, yet it is completely leafless. The species having never been known to show signs of a single bud. Its sap is useful as a medicine. It is as fast as wool is worse than useless being as hard as iron and quite as difficult to burn.

THE PRINGLE-HOUGHTON ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Miss Hester Pringle to Norris Houghton of New York has been the pleasantest surprise of the week and congratulations are pouring in upon the happy couple. Miss Pringle is universally admired and is called by all her friends a splendid girl. She is of the fine, unique California type which we are bound to admire and to cleverly imitate and a fine, common-sense girl. Miss Pringle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pringle and although the family home is in Oakland she is usually well known and is popular on the whole of the bay. She has an older sister, Nina, who is greatly interested in philanthropic work and several brothers—William, Bill, Pringle, who married Miss E. E. Hutchinson, Edward who is fitted the handsome Miss Miriam Moon, Miss Tom Breezes, sister S. S. Pringle and Livingston Pringle, whose wife was Katherine Pringle. Miss Pringle is also a cousin of Miss Frances Kent, who wedded Henry Houghton this past week. Mr. Houghton is a successful journalist and is prominent in the literary world in New York, where he and his bride will reside.

The Duchess of Roxburghe is one of the few American girls who has not risen to be a great power in England. Of course her great wealth and possession of millions and her old title have given her high social position. But she has not risen in another and more important sense. She has failed to make an important position. Jenny Jerome went from her New York home straight to England, where she became the wife of Lord Randolph Churchill and she was largely instrumental in his sensational rise to the cabinet position. The former Beaconsfield Mills offers another example. She has been married only a few months but she has established one of the few American families of political influence in London. Mrs. Mills is doing real work in furthering the political career of her husband. The Duchess of Marlborough is another American girl who has made her name in England. She is a clever woman in England, a strong speaker and holding high position.

Frederick Reed, was pastor and where, twenty five years ago, the wedding of the bride's parents was celebrated. The ceremony took place at ten o'clock in the morning the service being read by Rev. Edward Maxwell. It was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. Henry Campbell. Only relatives and intimate friends were present. The bride, tall, stately blonde who resembles her father, presented a pretty picture in her wedding gown with long white tulle veil and shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley. BIRKBEY. June 12. — Leaving behind a husband and four small children and taking with her $200. of the family savings, Mrs. Marchetti, wife of Peter Marchetti, a young clerk at a San Francisco Italian newspaper, taking of 2424 Roosevelt street, is disappointed. The report is that her heart has been won by an older man, and that she is leaving her husband and four children. Young woman, but the alleged husband and the transient woman's father emphatically deny this, and say that the fight is the usual emotional argument following a severe illness.

Mrs. Marchetti is believed to have gone to Mexico, where she has relatives who are quite wealthy. At least that is the story of the neighbors. In a positive statement, however, the neighbors are not on his return from work last evening.

Leaves a Note

"My wife, Kate, reports that she could have dined with another man, a Republican," said Marchetti. "The man is a very good fellow, but he represented some of the savings banks we kept in the house. There was a bank account in the name of her mother, to which she had access, but this she left untouched. My wife has wealthy relatives in Tepeco, Mexico, and has often expressed a desire to visit them, but I have not been able to obtain the necessary plan and I think she has decided to forego the advantage of my absence and fled to them for a time.

"My only fear is that she will meet with an accident or become ill in her disordered frame of mind. She took nothing with her in the way of clothing or travelling conveniences—just put on her hat and gloves and walked away."

where a more sincere nor a sweeter hostess than Miss Edith Beck.

The Becks have one of the most old-fashioned and thoroughly delightful homes in the Lakeside district—a home in which many people have lived—a home of memories and traditions—one of the most hospitable homes to be found in the historic Lakeside district.

The home was very beautifully decorated in honor of the bride, sweet peas forming the motif for a most artistic effect in decoration. There were great baskets of sweet peas, in pale pink and lavender tones, tied with large

THE society woman of today is standing for a great many more things than bridge, teas, receptions, and the lighter side of life generally.

There are incidents in her day's work, of course, but she is lending her influence and contributing of her means to further the notable experiments of today. She is taking the lead in all philanthropic efforts, and making an impress on the world's best work.

This is specially true in England and in America; in England women of rank are far more prominent in politics than are the women of our own country, and they are taught from childhood to have a personal care of dependents. In our own country women like Helen Gould, and Mrs. Clarence Mackay are leaders in social circles, but they push along helpful experiments with an amazing amount of energy.

In our own immediate circles women prominent socially are doing a great deal of splendid unselfish work, and the world is better for their noble efforts.

Along that line of thought certain names always suggest themselves—the names of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. William Crocker, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Mark Regan, Mrs. Raul Chabot, Mrs. John Yule—names of women who have taken the lead in great philanthropies, and have shown the way to good work to others coming after them.

It would take many chapters of a most interesting book to write the history of the whole-hearted efforts of Mrs. Hearst—efforts which have brought so much good to the race—so much happiness to others—so much sweetness into saddened lives.

She has established and supported for years kindergartens where they were most needed; she established the leading settlement work on this coast. She gave aid to the many charities that needed her help—and she has encouraged art everywhere.

The many great charities are matters of public interest always, and one may know about them—but the individuals that are helped mean other stories—and the tales of such helpfulness find records often only in human hearts.

And who shall say that they are not sometimes the most enduring records of all?

Many people give only of the wealth which is theirs—but Mrs. Hearst has always given of herself. There has been the large heartedness—the sweet gladness in the gift—the rare and generous impulses—the gracious, kindly interest—and in many cases, a total affection that marks often a great unselfishness.

It has not always been a matter of just giving away part of an abounding wealth one knows that Mrs. Hearst's unselfishness would have prompted much in the way of self-sacrifice, that others might be helped over a hard place along life's way.

It is no wonder that the great things for which she has so nobly stood should make her one of the most distinguished women of modern times.

For years Mrs. William Crocker has been one of the leading supporters of our West Oakland home. For years she has been its honorary president and has made it possible for the good work of the home to go on.

Mrs. Crocker is going on with her philanthropic work in a way that is arousing the admiration of thoughtful women on both sides of the bay. Everyone is talking of the unique tea she gave a few days ago, in the red room of the Fairmont—the purpose of the tea being a discussion of permanent philanthropy. It was one of the very finest meetings in many ways that San Francisco has known in many months.

There was a happy day, thirty years ago, for Oakland, when the Isaac Requa chose that plateau in the foothills for their building site, and erected a home which has stood all these years for noble ideals—and from which has always emanated that beautiful generous spirit of charity, which has meant much in Oakland's philanthropies.

Mrs. Requa's work has had an abiding influence in the Home for Aged Women, in the Fabiola Hospital, in the Nurses' home, in church work, in fact we might trace up unnumberable lines, such as work for the soldiers, establishing the Convalescent Home for the Philippine invalids, and many more lines of effort, marking generous, unselfish spirit, and a heart that beat always in sympathy with the poor and needy.

Miss Ethel Moore has been one to lead the way along many paths of helpfulness. She is a Vassar graduate, and she brings a thoughtful consideration to her many problems that makes them worth while for others. Miss Moore has been for some years president of Oakland's Social Settlement ment on Ford street, realizing in many ways the theories in which settlement work has been based. Miss Moore is planning to establish a Fruit and Flower Mission on this side of the bay, and is asking her young girl friends to join her in the good work.

There is plenty of fruit and flowers to be had over here for sick people—it only needs bright and willing young girls to see that they reach those to whom they would be so great a boon.

Mrs. Mark Regan has established the Children's Sunshine Pavilion at Fabiola Hospital, and her earnest, thoughtful work is of great value in formulating helpful plans for that historic hospital.

SPLENDID WORK OF HOSPITAL.

The members of Providence Hospital Association held their last meeting for the year at the hospital on Thursday, with Mrs. Thomas Hogan in the chair.

The record of their good work for the year is inspiring, especially in "St. Joseph's Ward," which is the ward for the poor.

From the proceeds of the famous tag day, a permanent bed for the poor has been endowed, the committee in charge of it, consisting of Mrs. Arthur D. Thomson, Mrs. John Francis Smith, and the president, Mrs. Thomas H. Hogan.

CARD PARTY GIVEN BY MISS BECK.

One of the largest card parties of the season was that given yesterday by Miss Edith Beck, who entertained a hundred friends in honor of her friend, one of the popular June brides, Mrs. Philip Arthur Wadsworth, formerly Miss Bessie Fillmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth have been spending some days at Del Monte, and since their return to town they have been guests at the home on Alice street of Mrs. E. B. Beck. Mrs. Philip Wadsworth and Miss Beck have been fast friends ever since early school days, and Miss Beck has spent many vacation holidays at the Fillmore ranch in Tulare. Many friends of the young bride were glad of this opportunity of offering good wishes, for she has hosts of friends here, and is a most attractive and very popular girl. And there never could be any-bows of pink and lavender ribbon, and beautiful La France roses added to the color scheme of pink.

Miss Beck was assisted in receiving her guest by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. Henry Wadsworth, and by the guest of honor, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth.

Mrs. Beck wore a very handsome gown in black and white liberty satin, trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Henry Wadsworth was very beautifully gowned in gray liberty satin, the corsage showing a superb arrangement of rare lace. Mrs. Wadsworth is very fond indeed of her new daughter, and the affection is reciprocated, and one feels that they make a very happy family group.

Miss Edith Beck was a most attractive hostess, wearing an exceedingly pretty gown—a dainty frock of white chiffon, embroidered in pink roses. She carried a handsome shower bouquet of pink bridesmaid's roses.

Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, the bride, is a most attractive young matron, and she looked very pretty indeed, and very happy in receiving the sincere good wishes of so many of her dear friends. She wore a dainty hand-embroidered lingerie gown, and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley.

The game of the afternoon was bridge, and it was most interesting, because of the many good players of the afternoon. It was a progressive game, and the beautiful prizes were won by Mrs. McClure Gregory and Miss Ruth Kales, and among the other very good players of the afternoon were Mrs. George Hafner, Mrs. Hiram Hall, Mrs. Charles E. Parcells, Miss Jessie Craig and Miss Emma Mahony. Late in the afternoon elaborate refreshments were served, ending a most delightful card party.

Specially effective costumes were seen at the card party, since the guests were for the most part young matrons or young girls, friends of the hostess and her guest of honor. Miss May Coogan was among the most stunning of the guests, and she was one of the most popular, for very few girls can number so many warm friends as can May Coogan. She wore a pink lingerie gown with a wide white hat trimmed in pink roses.

Miss Mary Downey, who is a very pretty girl, wore a white embroidered lingerie gown, with a lingerie hat to match, trimmed in pink roses.

Miss Anita Thomson wore a pale pink lingerie gown with a wide hat in pale lavender tones.

Miss Carmen Sutton was gowned in black and white liberty satin, with a black hat with white roses.

Miss Clara English is one of the attractive brides-elect of the season, and many good wishes were offered her on the recently announced engagement.

Mrs. Charles Bates, who is such a popular young matron, wore a dainty gown of white, showing artistic hand embroidery.

Mrs. Murray Orrick was gowned in green messaline, with wide hat to match the costume.

Mrs. Chalen Parker wore a gown showing royal purple effects, with a large black hat. Mrs. Frederick Diekmann was gowned in white, the gown set off with a large white hat trimmed in pink roses.

Mrs. Charles Hutchinson always wears exceedingly pretty gowns, and at the card party she wore a white lingerie dress, set off with a lace coat applied in pink roses. Her wide white hat was trimmed in pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Kenneth Lowden wore a blue hand embroidered lingerie gown, with a wide white hat.

Mrs. George Gross was very stunning indeed in a costume showing lively tones of brown. She was a bright and attractive guest, and one of the young matrons to whom her friends are truly devoted.

Other attractive costumes of the afternoon were worn by Mrs. Leon Bocqueraz, Miss Florence Selby, Miss Arline Johnson, Miss Josephine Johnson, Mrs. William Knowles, Mrs. B. L. Stephenson, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. B. F. Stone, Junior, Mrs. George Davis, Miss Entz, Mrs. James Kenna, Miss Christine English and Miss Elsie Everson.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth are leaving for Tulare in a few days, where their future home is to be for some time. But their friends hope to see them often in Oakland, for Mrs. Wadsworth's home is here, and of course "the children" will come home at intervals for a visit to her.

Miss Edith Beck's card party was one of the most delightful of the year, marking perhaps the last large bridge party of the season, now that the vacation time is definitely here.

WORK OF MOTHERS' CLUB.

Among the society women of Berkeley, one finds much work of absorbing interest. In the first place, there is the "Mothers' Club," an organization of women which proposes to have something to say in the management of the schools. And high time indeed it is that this were done.

Partly through the influence of this "Mothers' Club," Mrs. Elinor Carlisle, an exceedingly able woman, has been elected to a position on the Berkeley Board of Education. A Mothers' Club would not be a bad plan in Oakland, in the face of the facts which confront us, now, at the close of the year.

Facts are stubborn things, and there must always be a reason for their existence.

It is a sad fact that only fifteen boys graduated this year from our High School, and not all of those have been recommended to the University.

Oakland's contribution to the University of California this year is about ten young men, a sorry enough showing for a great city, which has always boasted of its educational advantages.

The taxes are simply enormous, and what is the use of the poor man struggling to pay his share of them if the best that his city can obtain as a result is just fifteen boys?

There are more girls than boys, of course, but even for the girls, the class is entirely too small.

The facts before us mark failure somewhere, perhaps along many lines, and a "Mothers' Club" might find scope for a necessary work of absorbing interest.

SUMMER HOMES ARE OPENED.

The Eastern country homes are now opened for the summer, since Easterners, but especially New Yorkers, spend more time in each year in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hampton Lynch (Lucy Moffitt) have a beautiful country estate at Ridgefield, Connecticut, and the Harden Crawfords built their summer home at Seabright, on the New Jersey coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Havens will go as usual this summer to Sag Harbor, where they have a most picturesque home on the ocean shore.

The Havens have as their guests for a few weeks this summer the Wickham Havens and their dear little daughter, Sally Havens, and Miss Phyllis Partington will also spend some days at Sag Harbor this summer.

The F. M. Smiths, as usual, go to Shelter Island this summer, and they will be accompanied by Miss Sperry and by Mrs. Smith's sister, Miss Marian Ellis.

ANNUAL EXODUS IS BEGUN.

The coming of the school vacation days sends many people out of town this week.

All the schools are closed now, and vacation is really here, and the many bungalows scattered through our own foothills, in the Santa Cruz Mountains, and in Marin County are in readiness for their owners.

Captain and Mrs. Joseph Mathews and Mrs. Wade left on Thursday for Brookdale, where they are to spend the next two months with Mrs. Arthur Bolland, in her picturesque country home "D'u Allouh."

Mr. J. P. Edoff, with Frank and Allen Edoff, left last Monday for Boulder Creek, where they will spend four months in the cottage recently built by Mr. Edoff. The latter will have as his guest, also, Mrs. George Porter Baldwin (Florence Edoff), who is to spend part of the summer in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Smith and their children are leaving for Boulder Creek the latter part of this week, and Mrs. Smith and the children will spend two months in their attractive little country home among the redwoods.

Other country homes which are to be opened in the near future are those of the McMullens and the Kirsells, at Boulder Creek.

Mrs. John Overberry (Emily Chickering) has arrived from Tonopah, and with Mrs. Allen Chickering is planning to spend some days at Los Gatos, where the Chickering have had for lies at the root of happiness in the social world.

TO MOTOR THROUGH YOSEMITE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tanner are also among those who have planned a summer outing in Yosemite Valley. They are taking a motor trip to the valley, and are planning to spend some days in the Yosemite, and in other expeditions.

The Ernest Tanners have established a most delightful home at Berkeley, for Mrs. Tanner, who was charming Pearl King, is one of the

THE PASSING SOCIAL SHOW.

In summer there is a little more leisure for quiet thought and one can analyze one's impressions of the passing social show. One is so proud of most things American, of most things Western, that one is led to wish that in our own social set, we might evolve higher standards along some lines. A recent sentence by an observing writer, brings its own food for thought. "There is one marked characteristic of our men, who by reason of their own or their ancestors' ability have achieved large fortunes. Few of them seem to have been brought up to feel any obligation to make themselves agreeable. They don't consciously formulate it, but they seem to feel in their hearts that their money is all the social asset they need."

"And, of course, that is all wrong. Money takes you a long way it is true, but it does not take you all the way, and it is powerless to buy friendships loyal and true."

And one reads also: "In our smart set, if things go wrong, young people are allowed to sulk, nine times out of ten. In Europe they get their ears boxed if they show such lack of self-control. Oh, I tell you, the spirit that sent the French aristocrats smiling to the scaffold isn't half a bad thing to have in the house every day in the year. And it is a part of the education of well-bred people in Latin countries of Europe."

NOTABLE WEDDING OF THE MONTH.

Ceremonies are being sent out this week by Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Briggs, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Anna Frances Briggs, to George Love.

The marriage was very quietly celebrated but it nevertheless marked one of the very notable weddings of the month.

Mr. Love is a professional man of assured standing and comes of a good family, and Mrs. Love (Anna Frances Briggs) is one of the notable artists of the coast.

She has achieved distinction not only here, but also in London, where her pictures were exhibited in the Salon, and where her Monterey studies received special mention.

VACATION PASSED IN HONOLULU.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogan returned from the Islands last Sunday, having greatly enjoyed their vacation days in picturesque Honolulu. They have a great many friends in that interesting city, and their visit there was a round of entertainment, marking the cordial welcome of many friends.

The Coogans are such thoroughly good friends themselves, so loyal and true, that much comes into their lives in return for their thoughtfulness. The found the ocean trip very restful, and Mr. Coogan has returned to town ready to go on with the day's work with all his old energy.

MISS PRINGLE ENGAGED.

The engagement of Morris Houghton of New York and Miss Hess Pringle was announced this week, and the announcement is of the greatest interest to friends and relatives in Oakland.

The Pringles lived for many years here, their old family home adjoining the residence of the A. A. Moore's in one of the East Oakland heights. The Misses Nina and Hess Pringle were always very popular girls, and Hess Pringle's engagement is of interest to many old friends of the family.

One hears that Mr. Morris Houghton is a well-known journalist of New York City, and it is said also that the wedding of the young people will be an event of the later summer.

Mrs. Pringle and her daughters left last spring for an Eastern visit, going to New York and to North Carolina.

Sydney and Covington Pringle make their permanent home across the bay, and the William Bull Pringles have a most attractive home at Linda Vista.

MRS. PALMER'S HEALTH BETTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Palmer are at the Hotel Rafael, having been there now for several weeks.

Mrs. Palmer has been ill this summer, but her health is now much better, and the Palmers intend to spend the month of June at the Hotel Rafael, as that is nearer to Mr. Palmer's railroad interests than their home in Alameda.

TOURIST TRAVEL AT HIGH WATER MARK.

News notes from abroad bring much information of real interest.

One hears that the American tourist tide reached its high-water mark in Berlin last week. The big hotels for the first time this season had the undisguised pleasure of telling tardy arrivals that there was not a single room left, with the result that many had to be turned away.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Junior, who has been spending some days at Newport, has suddenly decided to go to Europe, and is sailing next week.

Mrs. Horace Russey, with her son, and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Hussey, are still in Paris. Miss Hussey writes that she has quite recovered from her severe attack of diphtheria, which alarmed her friends a few weeks ago.

The Husseys are planning to return to California this summer, and they expect to arrive in Oakland some time in July.

One of the most popular women in Rome is Mrs. George Wurtz, whom many Californians have met through the courtesy of Mrs. Charlemagne Tower (Nellie Smith).

Mrs. Tower has always been very proud of Americans, and very courteous to all American tourists, being specially fond, of course, of Californians. One reads of Mrs. Wurtz:

"Mrs. George Wurtz is home two days in the week, or whenever her flag is waving, which is really almost every day. This lady, who is the sister of Charlemagne Tower, the famous Ambassador, owns the old Villa Sciarra on the Janiculum, with a view over Rome and the famous Campagna, that is superb in the extreme."

Friends here of Mrs. Tower are hoping that she may come to California this year, now that her husband has no longer exacting diplomatic duties abroad.

A TEA IS THE PLACE FOR SHORT STORIES.

Once upon a time there was a very valuable book written, and its name was, "Don't."

One wishes it could have a sequel, called by the same name, for the social world might be a much more agreeable place because of it.

You might wish that at a tea your best friend would not pinion you in a corner, to confide to you some long story.

A tea is the place for short stories, —for if you take a big reception in the right way, you will want to meet as many of your friends as you can in the allotted time.

To make the conversation general, to include everybody in your remarks, is the first principle of good manners abroad.

And innumerable are the "don'ts" which might adorn one's conversation when it is about bridge. And really if one is not trying for the prize, it is quite as well not to spoil the chances of one's partner if she is serious in playing her game.

And it is quite as well not to accept a bridge invitation if one does not like cards, for bridge is a strenuous, thoughtful game, and one has not the right to spoil the pleasure of a really good player, during a long afternoon.

All people do not think with a lightning-like rapidity, and the slower players are very often apt to be surer players, so one might be quiet, and possess her soul in patience, while they are trying to determine which card to play.

To be patient, to keep one's temper, to be sweet and agreeable, especially to older people—all, these make for good breeding, and the latter most popular of young matrons, presiding over a home worth while in many ways.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER TODAY.

Mrs. George H. Perry, whose picture appears today, was the hostess on Wednesday afternoon at an elaborate reception given in honor of her son's bride, Mrs. Harold Dray Perry, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the living room pink and white was the chosen color scheme, carnations and roses being used most effectively. Branches of pink hydrangeas were the attractive decoration for the reception hall, while in the dining room masses of scarlet geraniums and asparagus ferns were in harmony with dark wood furnishings. The hostess was most distinguished in her beautiful reception gown of white messaline, with its exquisite pearl garniture. The attractive guest of honor was most attractive in her wedding gown. The receiving party included Mrs. George Clarence Thompson, Mrs. William Tapan Lum, Mrs. Carl Rhodin, Miss Tosca Brunsch, Miss Grace Wastell, Miss Leona McArthur.

Miss Florence Grube is a talented member of the younger set and has just left for an extended tour abroad. She will visit Berlin, Palestine and Italy during her absence.

Miss Elsie Zeile, whose picture is also presented today, is prominent in social circles. She was one of the attractive bridesmaids at the Davis-Ochs wedding which was such a beautiful event of the winter months.

Miss Nina Crittenden is one of the younger set whose engagement was an announcement of the winter.

TO GO TO TAHOE AND SEATTLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward de Laveaga are at their country home, "Benvenue," at Orinda Park, where they are planning to spend the month of June.

Later in the summer they will go to Tahoe, and a trip to Seattle is also in their itinerary for the summer.

WISDOM OF WISE ENTERTAINING.

Quiet entertainments are the order of the hour, for the popular woman has not now so many dates, and she can find time for the best dates of all for the afternoons with people she really cares about.

And there is another side of the picture, for there are many hostesses who care to entertain simply, and so they must choose the proper time for their entertainments.

A bit of advice is hidden away under a paragraph marked, "Wise Entertaining."

"If a hostess chooses a very gay period, the height of the summer or winter season, or Easter week, she is putting herself at a disadvantage. She is coming into competition with hostesses who can offer a greater list of attractions than she can. Her friends will have so many engagements during the gay season that another invitation will only mean another burden. We want to ask our friends at a time when it will be agreeable to them to visit us. So when other people are not giving invitations one would do well to ask her friends to her home."

PAYMASTER DOUGLASS AT VALLEJO.

Paymaster and Mrs. Eugene Hale Douglass are established in Vallejo, where they expect to remain while Paymaster Douglass is on duty on this coast.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Crist (Kitty Kutz) are at the naval station Portsmouth, on the Atlantic coast, and their many friends are hoping that Lieut. Crist may be assigned to duty here, in the near future.

Captain and Mrs. Edger (Edith Downing) have returned from the Philippines, and Mrs. Edger was among the guests at Mrs. De Golla's tea last week.

The Misses Huff have sent out invitations for a tea in honor of their niece, Mrs. Edger, and will entertain for her at their well-known country home in San Leandro.

MANY VISIT AT TAHOE.

Lake Tahoe continues to be one of the most interesting of the High Sierra summer resorts, and among the guests at Tahoe Tavern last week were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stolp. Hon. and Mrs. George Pardee returned to Oakland early in the week, having spent some delightful days in a fishing trip at Tahoe.

Their daughter, Carol, is convalescing rapidly from a recent operation for appendicitis.

VISITORS AT YOSEMITE VALLEY.

Among the many tourists in Yosemite Valley last week were the Van Sicklens of Alameda, Miss Dorothy Van Sicklen being in their party. They were at "Camp Ahwahnee," the most picturesque of the many Yosemite camps.

"Ahwahnee" is the very attractive Indian name for the falling water, and many people think the famous valley should retain the pretty name bestowed upon it in early days by the Indians.

MR. AND MRS. PATTIANI TO RETURN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pattiani (Evelyn Craig), who have been away from Oakland for the past two years, are planning to establish a home in Alameda, and their return will be good news to a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Pattiani is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Craig, and she has always been a most popular member of social and club circles of this city.

WHY SHE WOULDN'T MARRY INTO ARMY.

One of the speeches of a girl well known in social circles is being repeated by her friends.

She was invited to one of the hope given at Mare Island, and she promptly sent a regret.

"What's the use of going," she said. "I haven't the slightest intention of marrying into a condition of life where the men have all the clothes!"

And there really was a great deal of wisdom in the little speech if one reduced it to a last analysis.

EARLY VISITORS TO SPRINGS.

Among the visitors at Bartlett Springs in these early summer days are Mrs. Roosevelt Johnson and Miss Nellie Gross. They have been there a month, and are greatly enjoying life, and they report the walks very beautiful and the swimming excellent.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Gross are planning to go to Catalina Island for a month or two, as the conclusion of their visit to Bartlett Springs.

IT'S THE UNEXPECTED THAT HAPPENS.

This has been a quiet week socially, varied only by the announcement of several unexpected engagements and of a marriage or two. The engagement announced from the east of Miss Hess Pringle and Mr. Houghton of New York was a great surprise to Miss Pringle's San Francisco friends. Mr. Houghton is a well-known newspaper man of New York and a distant

Don't Marry, Girls; You May Live to Be a Hundred

NEW YORK—To the rules of living Miss Mary Cummings who is awaiting death on a cot in Bellevue hospital after a hundred years of vigorous activity subscribes her longevity.

First—Never for a moment lose your independence.

Second—If you are a woman—never marry.

Mrs. Bessie Carey of No. 43 West Seventeenth street with whom Miss Cummings has been boarding up to two weeks ago, rather discouraging Miss Cummings' profession of co-nut.

Although she won't admit it Mrs. Carey who is her niece declares the old lady left Ireland because of a deep politeness in love. That's why Miss Cummings has been so bitter against marriage for niece of this.

But the old lady told me a different story. It is independent you may be if you want to live to be a hundred! she said over and over again. And if you don't want to lose your independence don't let a man take your time away from you.

Wife No. 2 Can't Wear No. 1's Jewels

NEW YORK—Is Wife No. 2 entitled to wear the diamond earrings of her predecessor especially when the first wife objects and claims the ornaments as her heritage?

That deep problem was wrestled with by a jury and Justice John J. Walsh in the First Municipal District court Brooklyn and the verdict was against Wife No. 2.

Mrs. Mary Lee Miner brought the suit her stepmother Mrs. Eliza Brown Lyman was the defendant. The earrings are worth $150 but their money value was of no consequence Mrs. Miner assured the jury. It was more than she could bear to see her dead mother's jewels passing to the hands of her father's second wife. Besides her mother had left the earrings to her Mrs. Miner as a wedding gift and her stepmother had no legal right to wear them.

The jury adopted Mrs. Miner's view.

Suffrages and Suffragettes

The London Chronicle has taken upon itself to settle a question which has vexed philologists wherever the English language is spoken. It says: Shall they be suffragists or suffragettes? We have kept our columns clear of the word "suffragette" as long as possible but it is time we have to admit it. Because of the different methods of the two societies that demand voice for women we feel compelled to recognize the distinction. There is the militant wing and the constitutional wing. Wherefore the best we can do is to review what the printers do to the custom of the house. Henceforth the suffragists will be ladies who behave themselves as such and the others will be suffragettes. That is the best our language machines can do.

NOW IT WOULD SEEM THAT WOMEN ARE REALLY TO WEAR THE TROUSERS AT LAST

Madam in her up-to-date pantaloons costume is not really the shocking spectacle the name would lead one to imagine. This latest freak of fashion was first produced by a Parisian actress, Made-moiselle Suzanne Berger of the Opera Comique who says she wears it for comfort. Her appearance created excitement at first but the latest report is that every one with the wherewithal is hieing her to a modiste for one just like it. Fickle minded Paris is already forgetting the sheath gown. The unique part of the costume is only truly appreciated when one watches a woman donning it. The only opening is at the side and along the front waistline. ergo my lady fair must climb into it and hoist it up as a man does his trousers. In such a costume petticoats are necessarily an unknown quantity, instead knee trousers of cloth are worn.

MISS MAUD MINER'S NEW AND GRAND WORK FOR GIRLS

NEW YORK—Through the co-operation of the trustees of the Sage Foundation the board of directors of the New York Probation Association, which has taken over the care of the Waverly House at 165 West Tenth street has decided to enlarge the scope of the association's activities. At an informal meeting of some of the directors last night at Waverly House it was decided to ask Miss Maud F. Miner on of the women probation officers of the police court to resign her place and become manager of the house exclusively at an increase of salary. Miss Miner has accepted the offer and will probably hand in her resignation to the Board of Magistrates at their next meeting.

The Waverly House is an outgrowth of the night police court. Miss Miner was the woman probation officer in that court for the first four months of its existence. Many of the women arrested were put under her charge. She soon found that they must go back to their old haunts for the night. Some of them reverted to crime. Miss Miner time and time again at 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning went about the city to the Salvation Army headquarters and other places trying to get lodging for those women who wanted to reform.

She finally got some friends together to share the expense and she got her sister Stella A. Miner to rent a house on West Tenth street near the court where women released could be cared for temporarily. It was a small beginning but Miss Miner kept the thing going until a year ago when the Probation Association took over the premises upon the Plan. By yesterday to the Progressive Friends assembled in annual meeting at Longwood Chester county.

He traced the growth of the family from a custom to an institution and said that when it becomes an institution of choice the secret of making it permanent will have been solved. He scouted the fears of pessimists that the permanency of the family was threatened by divorce.

to make a canvass among the charitable inclined.

The house accommodates about twenty five women. There were there last night twenty two inmates. A dancing teacher sent by the University Extension Society was teaching them dancing. The room rang with laughter at times and good cheer was prevalent through the house. The girls and women some of them with fatherless babies or taken to the home at any time of the day and night and are kept there free of charge until they get a chance to earn their living. A bureau is maintained to seek employment for them. They do all the house work and in addition get instruction in sewing basket weaving cooking and the like. Outfits are furnished to them when employment is obtained for them. Some of them are privileged to board in the place when they get employment.

Miss Miner has found that the women of the street are practically incorrigible. But many young girls who have been brought to court for petty thefts and others of that sort can be reformed and it was to save them that she started the home. Among the more than 250 women have been sent to the city in a year.

If the Maud Miner's institution can have a place where a woman may be cared for at any time of the night the increase the number of inmates will be great. The effects of the probation law have been found to be beneficial and a result of Miss Miner's work is that the all given by the state in the care of the directors of the house is to increase the work.

Miss Miner has been a probation officer for nearly three years. She is a graduate of Smith College and has a B.S. degree. She taught in the University Extension Society and then came to this city and took her masters degree at Columbia. She was studying for a doctor's degree when her interest in charitable work attracted her to become a probation officer. She has been one of the most successful in this kind of work in the city. She is now wants $10,000 for a home where the sick and elderly women may be put in her charge. The Waverly House may be sent until the summer when enough to work.

Says Divorce Leads to BETTER THINGS

PHILADELPHIA—Declaring that he saw a divorce no dissolution of society and no quenching of the heart's fire but instead a balancing of issues that make for better things so far and morally Dr. J. J. Lichner of New York talked pertinently upon the subject yesterday to the Progressive Friends assembled in annual meeting at Longwood Chester county.

He traced the growth of the family from a custom to an institution and said that when it becomes an institution of choice the secret of making it permanent will have been solved. He scouted the fears of pessimists that the permanency of the family was threatened by divorce.

Grand Work of Mrs. Russell Sage IN LINES OF CHARITY

NEW YORK June 9—In less than three years Mrs. Russell Sage has spent more than $25,000,000 for public purposes and the benefit of mankind. A recent investigation abroad of the question of workmen's insurance and the establishment of a gigantic employment bureau called attention to her bounty.

It took Russell Sage fifty years to get $25,000,000. This great sum represented the pinching and scraping together of what amounted to $75,000 a day for the first time of the astute financier. Mrs. Sage is now giving away this fortune at the rate of $25,000 a day. If she continues her charities at the pace she has set all will be gone in five years. A comparison of the financiers power to make money with Mrs. Sage's power of giving it away shows that the widow is giving away $2 in the same time that it took Mrs. Sage to accumulate the princely $25,000,000.

Large as Mrs. Russell Sage's fortune is it would hardly cover the cost of insuring all the workmen in America. said John M. Glavin secretary and director of the Russell Sage foundation when asked today by a reporter concerning the rumor that the widow contemplated ending an insurance for American workmen.

But with funds from the Sage foundation we have conducted a careful study of the workmen's insurance at home and abroad. He added.

"Another investigation into the desirability of establishing a national employment bureau in New York city which was conducted by the Russell Sage foundation in 1907. It was found that the workmen in America were not insured against accidents and that the cost of insuring them was not too high. The Russell Sage foundation has been working to establish a national employment bureau in New York city which would give work to the unemployed and thus prevent them from becoming a burden on society.

connection of the Pringle family. The marriage will probably take place in the east this fall and the future home of the couple will be in New York.

Miss Hess Pringle is the second daughter of Mrs. and the late Edward J. Pringle and is well known in East Oakland where the family home was for many years. Since Mr. Pringle's death Mrs. Pringle and her daughters have made their home across the bay and the five brothers are all married and live in the various San Francisco suburbs.

The Pringles are great friends of the Livermores and Miss Hess marriage and Mr. Walter Livermore will occur at about the same time. The Misses Pringles have spent much time abroad with their father.

The marriage of Miss Helen Chait and Henry Polman was very quietly celebrated last night. The betrothal had been announced but the marriage was delayed by the death of their father. The couple were married at the home of their mother in San Francisco.

The dinner of the Pringles was not a conventional affair but an engagement party. The bride wore a dress of silk and lace and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Smith.

Miss Hess Pringle is a very attractive young woman and her marriage is a very desirable one. She is well educated and has a good position in the Pringle family. Her husband is a very successful man and they will have a very comfortable life.

Another surprise marriage announcement this week was that made by Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Hewitt. Briggs announcing the marriage of their only daughter Miss Anna Frances Briggs to Mr. George Whitfield Lun. The marriage took place in San Francisco on Saturday June fifth. Mrs. Lun is a young woman very well known in Oakland. She is an artist of exceptional ability and has long been identified with the artistic colony in Monterey. She has beautiful blue eyes and charming manner and is noted for her sweet smile and sweeter disposition. Every one who knows her loves her. Several years ago she spent two years in Europe studying painting. At this time she made many friends and was much entertained in London where she had excellent letters from the first Mrs. F. M. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Lun will be showered with congratulations.

MRS. FRANK MOFFITT BACK FROM PARIS

Mrs. Frank Moffitt who has been in Paris for a long time returned to Oakland last night. She has a very pleasant trip and has seen many interesting sights. She will be home for a few days before leaving for another trip to Paris.

SALSAITO WEDDING ATTRACTS OAKLANDERS

A Salsaito wedding which was of interest to a number of Oaklanders took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Salsaito. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Smith and was attended by a large number of guests. The bride wore a beautiful dress and the groom wore a tuxedo. The wedding was a very successful one and all enjoyed it very much.

MISS BRECKENRIDGE ENGAGED

An engagement which has caused no end of flutter in San Francisco is that of Miss Florence Breckenridge and Dr. E. B. Stein an eminent Venetian physician. Miss Breckenridge is the only daughter of Mrs. Frederick Sharon and was a very popular girl in San Francisco society last winter. She divided her time between the Fairmont hotel and the beautiful home built by the Sharons at Fair Oaks. With Mr. and Mrs. Sharon she went abroad this spring but no hint of an engagement was breathed to her friends.

Mr. Breckenridge plays beautifully and has spent much of his life abroad.

MONTANA BANKER PAYS A VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Sellers Largey of Pullman Montana having been spending a week at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco returned to their home in Pullman last night. They had a very pleasant trip and saw many interesting sights. They will be home for a few days before leaving for another trip to Montana.

time and Mr. Maughan gave her many clever and sparkling lines to say. She also has a chance to wear some stunning frocks and a smashing hat of broad brim wound round with black paradise plumes. Surrounded by an excellent company identical with the one which played the piece in New York—Miss Barrymore gave an evening's entertainment which was well worth the plaudits she received. At the end of the second act after any number of recalls, with a speech evidently demanded Miss Barrymore showed a very pretty embarrassment and all that one could distinguish was Thank you very much. I'm very grateful.

Miss Barrymore is beautiful as ever, with huge lovely brown eyes undimmed. Her voice has still the same winsome huskiness but seems clearer and stronger than when she was last here.

Every box was occupied on Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Miss Jennie Crocker, Miss Genevieve King, Templeton Crocker, Dr. Tracy Russell and J. Downey Harvey were in one box. Miss Crocker and Mrs. Martin were both decolette. Miss Crocker wearing a hat covered with white crests and a peacock green satin gown with a huge white boa. Mrs. Martin wore a black hat and black boa and a low black gown. Miss King wore a black hat with a gray gown.

Mrs. Leon Greenbaum entertained a box party in another box. She wore a low old rose gown with a large black hat.

Mrs. Thomas Williams Mrs. E. L. G. Steele and Miss Muriel Steele were in a stage box.

Mrs. James C. Jordan entertained a box party among her guests being Mrs. Richard Derby and Mr. Black. Mrs. Jordan wore an old gold gown trimmed with gold passementerie.

Among those in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Will Tubbs Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deering Mr. Henry Nichols, Mrs. Henshaw, Judge and Mrs. Frank Kerrigan Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Ames Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Holman and Roden Williamson.

In the first act the star wore a stunning frock of black chiffon heavily embroidered in gold. In the second act her afternoon dress was a most unusual and becoming thing of brown chiffon over pale green trimmed with heavy brown silk fringe. In the last act she wore a fascinating white chiffon dotted with black over a deep rose color silk, the sleeves finished with long scarves and the skirt ornamented with wide bands of white satin. With all the gowns scarf effects which are so becoming to Miss Barrymore's height were worn.

The play contains a great many clever and epigrammatic lines. In speaking of her first unhappy marriage to a woman, Lady Frederick says: In my experience triumphs over hope.

Bruce McRae who has been summoned by his sister to prevent the marriage of Lady Frederick to her rich young son, says to the intriguing dowager: With my worldly wisdom and your lack of principle we ought to be more than a match for one lone woman.

Lady Frederick is terribly in debt and when some of her notes of hand are taken up by Farradine (Bruce McRae) Lady Frederick thanks him prettily and says, "I shall never be able to repay you."

Bruce McRae Miss Barrymore's leading man is as attractive as ever. He is not only a good actor but there is a fine manliness about him and he is always a gentleman. He is good looking, too, and has magnetism.

Miss Barrymore's fortnight is all ways a social triumph and she always spends her Sundays in Burlingame, where live people of her kind.

CAMPING ON THE HEAD WATERS OF THE TUOLUMNE.

Mrs. Norman McLaren has invited a party of congenial people to camp this summer on one of Mr. Bourne's properties near the head waters of the Tuolumne. The camp is to be rather elaborate and is being arranged now. The high Sierra is delightful in midsummer and particularly so this year. Included in Mrs. McLaren's party will be the Misses Griffith Miss Elizabeth Ashe, Constance Loyal and Dick McLaren and the Misses McKinnis.

MRS. FISKE COMING

The theatrical attraction for next week is Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske, who opens at the Valencia Theater for a two weeks run. Mrs. Fiske will play both Salvation Nell and "Rosemeroth." Her leading man is Holbrook Blinn, who is said to do wonderful work in "Salvation Nell." This is the first time that Holbrook Blinn, who is a San Franciscan, has ever played in his native city. His homecoming has been looked forward to

Her Suitor Gone, Girl Relents; Is Too Late

MILWAUKEE Wis.—Judge Quarles has ruled that anything which tends to lessen the beauty of woman has laid itself open to liability for damages.

A woman has a good complaint in an action for damages if she loses her hair by reason of the application of chemicals particularly if the solution is advertised as a hair restorer.

Judge Quarles has overruled the demurrer of a drug company of Fond du Lac in the complaint of Mrs. M. L. Bowman to the effect that her complaint does not state a sufficient cause of action.

Mrs. Bowman sued the drug company and a St. Louis manufacturer of hair dye for $20,000 damages for the loss of her hair. She alleges that loss was caused by the application of hair restorer purchased of the drug company and manufactured by the St. Louis company.

Surgeon Removes Needle Which Was in Her Body 25 Years

NEW YORK—By cutting a vein in the back of the right hand of Mrs. John O'Connell of No. 210 West 146th street Dr. Ira Lillman of No. 214 West 147th street removed the other day a part of a needle which had entered her palm of the hand twenty five years ago when she was a girl in Ireland. Mrs. O'Connell's husband holds a position in the Department of Street Cleaning. He was surprised when he returned home and was informed the needle had been found at last imbedded beneath the skin of the large veins.

How far the fragment of steel had traveled in the body of Mrs. O'Connell in those twenty five years no one will know because in its wanderings it never bothered the woman until yesterday. She was alarmed when a small saw in her right hand was snelled and in "Jamed" and that the condition was becoming worse rapidly. Putting in a hot cat and coat she hurried to the surgeon. He discovered that the steel of the needle was in and about the large vein. "This inflammation undoubtedly is caused by a foreign substance of some sort which is irritating the tissue," Dr. Lillman said. "Have you any recollection of injuring your hand in any way?"

Mrs. O'Connell began the hand was sore and she had a bad cold. She had been using a hair restorer and it had caused the inflammation. She had been using it for many years and it had caused the inflammation. She had been using it for many years and it had caused the inflammation.

Skeleton Keys and Jimmy Found on Pair When Searched

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—After a desperate hand-to-hand fight between two alleged cracksmen, who were encountered acting in a suspicious manner at 1 o'clock this morning, policemen Nash and Kelly arrested them at 1 o'clock this morning and placed them in detention at the city prison.

The two policemen were standing on the corner of Twelfth and B Street, when they saw two men running hurriedly toward them. One of the men was carrying a package under his arm, and the other was carrying a package in his hand. The policemen followed them until they reached a dark alleyway. The men then turned back and ran toward the policemen. A lively chase followed, and the men were finally captured at 1 o'clock this morning.

Pair Are Caught

At length after several shots had been fired, the two men were captured. The men were then taken to the city prison, where they were searched. The search revealed that the men were carrying skeleton keys and a Jimmy, which are tools commonly used by cracksmen. The men were then placed in detention at the city prison.

FOSTER ACCEPTS LOCAL POSITION

Leaves State Health Board to Be Superintendent of School Health Department

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—N. K. Foster of the State Board of Health yesterday announced that he would accept the offer of the Oakland Board of Education to be superintendent of the Department of Health in the public schools of that city.

The position was offered to Dr. Foster three weeks ago. At the time Governor Gillett appointed the new members of the board it was understood that Dr. Foster should retain his position if he chose. The reason Dr. Foster gives for changing his position is that his wife is in poor health and needs a change of climate.

PRAYS FOR HER WEALTHY SISTER

Mrs. Wong Sun Yue Offers Daily Supplication for Mrs. Howard Gould

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Mrs. Wong Sun Yue, sister of the beautiful Mrs. Howard Gould, who is suing for divorce from her millionaire husband, with suitable alimony, declares that she prays daily for the success of the relative with whom she has not been on speaking terms for eleven years. Not in fact, since she gave up the comparative luxury to which she had been accustomed and went into the streets of New York as a public missionary.

Later she came to this city where she married the Chinese, whose name she bears, and with whom she is now living in Chinatown. But through all of the years since she and her sister bade each other a last good-bye the woman of Chinatown has held Katherine Clemons Gould in her heart, and now, with the opening of the Gould trial in New York, Mrs. Wong Sun Yue thinks of her sister's success every minute of the day and spends her time upon her knees.

FAMOUS QUEENSBORO BRIDGE IS OPENED

NEW YORK, June 12.—A week's celebration of the opening of the Queensboro bridge across the East river was begun today. The bridge is a cantilever structure, said to be the largest of its kind in the world. It connects the boroughs of Manhattan and Queens, the Manhattan terminal being at East Fifty-ninth street. The celebration began with a parade of 30,000 members of civic and military organizations which escorted the first trolley car from Manhattan borough terminal to the Queensboro terminal. The bridge was then opened to traffic. The celebration will be continued in Long Island City all next week.

Growth of Bank's Business

It will be the aim of the officers and directors to build up one of the strongest savings banks in the West.

The Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank does only savings business, and has the distinction of being the only bank in Oakland doing only one class of business. It takes only savings accounts, and it pays interest on all such accounts at the highest rate consistent with conservative banking. Its loans are made on real estate, and the utmost care is taken in the making of these loans, so that the safety of the depositors is conserved.

When Building Will Be Finished

It is confidently expected that the building will be finished and ready for occupancy by the first of next January. The construction will be pushed.

Ladies' Room

At the northwest corner of the building on the main floor will be a ladies' room, which is especially designed to make the lady depositors of the bank feel at home. Here will be found tables with writing materials and comfortable chairs. In giving over to the ladies room the best location in the building, directly on the corner of Thirteenth and Franklin streets, the Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank will be creating an innovation on this Coast, but the idea has been a feature of most of the new bank structures in the eastern states.

Safe Deposit

The safe deposit vaults will be spacious and thoroughly up to date. These vaults will be located in the rear part of the building room on the ground floor. In the basement there will be a large vault for storage purposes. Marble is to be freely used in the banking room.

Strictly Savings Bank

The Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank does only savings business, and has the distinction of being the only bank in Oakland doing only one class of business. It takes only savings accounts, and it pays interest on all such accounts at the highest rate consistent with conservative banking. Its loans are made on real estate, and the utmost care is taken in the making of these loans, so that the safety of the depositors is conserved.

Finest Example of Bank

The new building of the Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank will undoubtedly be one of the finest examples of the buildings of this class to be found on the Pacific Coast, and it will be a great credit to Oakland. Furthermore, it will be a fine advertisement for our city as the best examples of distinctive bank buildings are pictures far and wide.

Officers of the Bank

The officers and directors of the Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank are: Edison P. Adams, president; S. B. McKee, vice-president; Geo. S. Meredith, cashier and secretary; and P. C. Martens, assistant cashier and assistant secretary.

DIVORCES HIM FOR SECOND TIME

Mrs. Annie Tietjen Once More Becomes Widow Through Court Ruling

HUSBAND BRUTAL TO HER, SHE DECLARES

Claims He Said He Remarried Her to Avoid Paying Alimony

Annie D. Tietjen's second marriage to Fred H. Tietjen, a formerly well-known furniture dealer of East Oakland and now a contractor and builder, proved even a worse failure than the first marital experience she had with him, and now that a final decree of divorce has been entered in the Superior Court in her favor, there is little probability of her risking another nuptial contract with him. This is the second time she has been divorced from Tietjen, the first decree in the first instance being granted in 1906, on the ground of extreme cruelty.

In the first case Mrs. Tietjen was granted $25 a month from the date of the interlocutory decree as alimony, by Superior Judge O'Connell, and in April, 1907, she employed an attorney to take proceedings to compel Tietjen to obey the court's mandate, which up to that time he had utterly failed to do, owing her something like $100.

Dodges Alimony

A citation was issued requiring him to show cause why he would not be punished for contempt of court and then he agreed to pay his divorced wife $25 every month if she would not take any steps for the back alimony. She acquiesced in this and then he came forward with the proposition that she marry him again as the best means of getting rid of the alimony proposition, and still having a great affection for him Mrs. Tietjen also agreed to this, and in September, 1907, they were remarried at San Rafael.

The second marital venture lasted until the following February, where there was another splitting. A month later Mrs. Tietjen called upon her attorney and asked him to draw up articles of separation at the request of her husband. The husband and went with his client to Tietjen and submitted the articles to him. In his testimony in behalf of Mrs. Tietjen the attorney told the court that Tietjen said he would refer the matter to his lawyer, but further than that agreed to nothing. The merchant said at the time that he would never live with his wife again. The next day the lawyer knew of the matter, Mrs. Tietjen called at his office one morning and said she had been informed that her husband had advertised to sell all his furniture in his place of business in East Oakland at public auction on the following day and asked him to begin suit for divorce at once and get a restraining order to prevent Tietjen from getting away with all the money. The suit was immediately instituted and then a settlement of the property rights was forced upon Tietjen with the understanding that his wife should not ask for more than $25 a month as temporary and permanent alimony.

Frequent Quarrels

Mrs. Tietjen resides in her own home at 47 Helen street. During the hearing of her suit she told the court that her second trouble with Tietjen began about a month before the separation, when he tried to induce her to sell her home. Quarrels were frequent, and during one of the many quarrels she was according to her testimony, that the only reason he married her again was because he owed her the $600 back alimony. He said he had checked her before and would cheat her again when she needed to the court. He said she would not get a cent from him the next time. The women also stated that Tietjen had been in the habit of calling her vulgar names and was very filthy in his habits about the house. Tietjen also told her lawyer, plaintiff said, that she had killed two men and that he was not going to have anything more to do with her for fear she would make him her third victim.

IS GIVEN $5000 FOR HIS LOST EYE

Higher Court Holds Spreckels Sugar Co. Responsible For Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The Spreckels Sugar Company must pay $5000 for the eye of Manuel Bohn, an employee at a Monterey county plant of the company, who claimed that he had been injured by the explosion of a tank containing a dangerous chemical compound which he had been sent to repair. The trial court in Monterey held that Bohn was entitled to the full amount for which he sued, and the company appealed.

The trial court had denied a motion for a new trial and all matters pertaining to this action were passed over rapidly to the higher court which confirmed most of the written opinion to the main point at issue—whether Bohn had been sent into an extraordinary employment without due warning. The court held that he had.

His eye was put out by the sudden bursting forth of exceedingly caustic liquor from an explosive manner from a pipe which he was opening. The company's defense was that it did not know that the pipe would explode, as it had never done so before. The presence of the dangerous liquor was held by the Supreme bench to be a hazard of which the injured man should have been informed.

MONDAY WILL BE "FLAG DAY"

Stars and Stripes to Float to Breeze on Anniversary of Its Adoption

Monday will be Flag day and throughout America the red, white and blue will float from the top of every public building and from thousands of private residences. And on the land of the coast, of every man who desires to perpetuate the sentiment of the flag will appear the three-colored symbol.

Monday, June 14th, has been designated "Flag Day" because it is the anniversary of the adoption of the United States flag. Consequently the day will be fitting celebration on Monday by the display of flags and other demonstrations in every city and hamlet of the United States. Nor will the rural communities fail to observe the day by unrolling the banner.

The Sons of the American Revolution have succeeded in causing this anniversary of the adoption of the flag to be generally observed. In every State branch societies have sent out notices and in California the State society of the Sons of the American Revolution, through its president, H. M. Sims, has done likewise.

RAILROAD TIES EXPENSIVE ITEMS

$56,000,000 Spent For 112,000,000 of Them During 1908

WASHINGTON, June 12.—During the year 1908 the steam and electric railroads of the United States purchased more than 112,000,000 cross-ties, costing at the point of purchase over $56,000,000, an average of 50 cents per tie, according to statistics just made public by the Bureau of the Census, in co-operation with the United States Forest Service. This was some 40,000,000 ties less than the quantity purchased in 1907, when the total was approximately 152,700,000, the highest ever recorded. The decreased purchases in 1908 were, of course, chiefly due to the business depression which affected every line of industry. This year most of the roads to purchase only the ties which were absolutely essential for renewals, and heavily cut down the purchase for new track. In 1908 only 7,421,000 cross-ties were reported as purchased for new track, as against 22,567,000 in 1907. Of the total number of ties purchased for all purposes the steam roads took approximately 94 per cent, leaving about 6 per cent for the electric roads.

Oak Wood Preferred

It is very interesting to note the wide range of woods used for cross-ties. The preliminary report by the Census Bureau lists separately fifteen classes or species. Of these the oaks are now and have always been by far the most important. The oak ties amounted to more than 48,000,000, or 43 per cent of the total quantity purchased. Next to these came the southern yellow pines, with 21,000,000, or 19 per cent of the total. It will be seen that the oaks and southern pines combined furnished nearly three-fourths of all the ties bought by the railroad companies last year. Cedar was next, but supplied more than 8,000,000 ties each, and Douglas fir nearly as much. About 4,000,000 spruce ties were purchased, nearly 3,500,000 cypress ties, and, in round numbers, 3,000,000 each of western pine, Redwood, white pine, lodgepole pine, gum, beech, and many several other woods were used in smaller quantities.

Want Good Substitute

While the oaks, and particularly the white oaks, have always been the preferred woods for cross-ties, and still form a large proportion of the total, the increasing prices which the roads have had to pay for satisfactory oak ties are forcing them to look more and more for substitutes. This accounts in part for the great variety of woods reported. White oak, untreated, makes a tie which gives excellent service for many years, but it has been found possible to take woods which naturally are not durable, give them a treatment with either creosote or zinc chloride, which will prevent decay, and thus get much longer service from them than can be secured from untreated oak ties. Among the woods which have been most largely used as substitutes are the yellow pines, particularly lodgepole pine, Douglas fir, western pine and lodgepole pine.

Need Chemical Treatment

This year's statistics add to the list the kinds of cross-ties which previously had not been reported in sufficient quantity to justify listing them separately. These are gum and beech. The purchases of gum ties in 1908 exceeded 250,000, while but slightly more than 15,000 of them were reported in the previous year. Of beech ties the purchases in 1908 amounted to nearly 133,000, against but little more than 51,000 in 1907. These are woods which are distinctly not suitable for cross-ties unless they are given preservative treatment. Their increased use, therefore, is one of the many results of the progress of wood preservation in the United States. For many years beech has been one of the principal cross-tie woods in Europe, where its value when given chemical treatment was long ago recognized. It is not uncommon for European roads to secure from twenty to thirty years' service from beech cross-ties. Untreated they would not last long enough to warrant their use at all.

Warrants Issued to Mrs. E. Terrill For Couple Said to Have Buncoed Her

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Mrs. Emily E. Terrill, a wealthy resident of San Francisco and the widow of an eminent physician and surgeon, caused the arrest yesterday of Mrs. Bertha Kotz, a trained nurse, and swore to a complaint against "Count" Ernest Furstenberg, who is said to have fled the city. Furstenberg is a trunk containing jewelry worth nearly $2,000 is alleged against Mrs. Kotz, and there is an allegation of attempted blackmail against the "Count."

Mrs. Kotz passed a day in jail before she could secure bond. Furstenberg fled before the warrant was issued.

Mrs. Terrill was found at the home of a friend at Magnolia avenue and Twelfth street.

Old rather dismisses the charges than have them printed. "Much as I hate to be buncoed, I hate worse to see my name in print."

"She's afraid to have the truth printed," said Mrs. Kotz after she had left the jail. "She does not want it known what I did for her and how she failed to pay me for my services."

It seems that Mrs. Terrill was sick when she came to Los Angeles and employed Mrs. Kotz to care for her. She approved somewhat under passage and careful attention and then persuaded Mrs. Kotz to give up her establishment on West Ninth street and take her to William. There the trunk was seized.

WOULD IMPROVE CITY STREETS

Plan For Bettering Oakland Highways Suggested by W. N. Frickstad

Recommendations as to street work in the eastern section of the city of far-reaching importance have been made in a report filed by Assistant City Engineer Walter N. Frickstad, who was formerly a member of the faculty of the University of California. This report is preliminary to the adoption of a systematic policy of street paving and other such improvements, and throws considerable light on the needs of the city, particularly in reference to the main highways of exit and approach into the heart of the business district.

It is suggested by the assistant engineer for the city that attention first be paid to East Twelfth street, the main artery in the eastern street system to Fourth avenue, which is soon to be paved by F. M. Smith at his personal expense of $30,000, and to Park street, which is the principal highway into Alameda and surrounding country. Cross streets and other avenues are to be cared for gradually and as funds are available.

Change of Grades

In connection with other street work an engineering problem of confronting the city officials, which, when completed, will result in a change of grades on East Twelfth street, from Madison to Fallon street, and on Commerce street, which will prove of great advantage to heavy teams, automobiles or even lighter vehicles. As conditions are at present the grade on East Twelfth street is a bar to traffic. Commerce street is located in a well defined valley, making heavy hauling, either going or coming, almost impossible and limiting loads to a minimum.

Should the ideas of the officials, which are now being seriously considered, be carried out, the grade on East Twelfth street will be reduced by one-half, making a grade of but two and one-half feet. This will be done from Madison to Fallon streets, while Commerce street will be built up at least five feet to get it on grade with the approaches.

Permanent improvements are contemplated over the East Twelfth street, and along the shores of Lake Merritt. It is proposed among other things to place the street car power poles between the car tracks and make these poles act also as supports for electric lights. This will result in that street being converted into not only an attractive highway, but one easily traveled as well.

WAIT DIVORCE TO MAKE HER HAPPY

Many Admirers Willing to Become Husband of Pretty Widow-to-Be

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—Regretting the day when she obtained a marriage license in Oakland, and declared that she was of legal age when she really was not, Mrs. Vida Antoinette Harrel has applied to the Superior Court here to have her marriage with Carl Harrel annulled.

In her petition Mrs. Harrel says she was only 16 years of age when, in 1902, she was married and swore that she was 18. Her married life has been an unhappy one, she alleges, and before the honeymoon was over she began to regret the wedding. The marriage was an abandonment and she did not have the consent of her parents, so she was unable to return to them when the days of her married life were not happy. The young woman's attorney says she has hosts of admirers, but cannot accept their attentions until the illegal marriage has been annulled.

AWFUL RASH ALL OVER BOY'S BODY

Weeping Eczema Kept Spreading on Little Sufferer—A Score of Treatments Prove Dismal Failures—Grateful Father Tells of

CURE ACHIEVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"It gives me great pleasure to express my deep gratitude in appreciation of the inestimable benefit that the Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent did my little boy. He had an awful rash all over his body and the doctor said it was eczema. It was terrible and used to water awfully. Any place the water hit it would form another sore and it would become crusted. A score or more physicians failed utterly and, finally, in their efforts to remove the trouble, then I was told to use the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and before we had used half the Resolvent I could see a change in him. In about two months he was entirely well. When people see him now they ask, 'What did you get to cure your baby?' and all we can say is, 'It was the Cuticura Remedies.' So if you Cuticura will always have firm and warm friends. George F. Lambert, 139 West Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa., September 20 and November 4, 1907."

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE Rely on Cuticura Remedies.

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, assisted, when necessary, by Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for eczema, irritation and inflammation, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for baby rashes; itching and chafings, and many sensitive, antiseptic purposes, which readily suggest themselves to women, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. NOTICE—The coming of MABEL HITE and MIKE DONLIN to the Oakland Orpheum Theater next Sunday afternoon is an event of such unusual interest that the theater management deems it worth while to call the attention of theater-goers in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley to the circumstance.

Mabel Hite is regarded as the greatest musical comedy star on the stage. Her husband, Mike Donlin is the king of ball players, the star of the New York "Giants." The two in vaudeville are paid a salary almost equal to that of a king's ransom.

Enough said, except—

Besides Mabel Hite and Mike Donlin, the vaudeville bill next Sunday will include five new acts of European and American origin, the finest that all the wealth and resources of the Orpheum Company can secure.

The management suggests that seats be ordered early the advance sale being very large.

THE Oakland management expects to find a real live ball player in the new day. The club has just acquired the services of the former Kansas City pitcher, who has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons.

Love has been playing short stop during the present season for the Kansas City team and has won himself a player of great ability.

Shortstop Mike Johnson, who played with the Oakland Coast League team in the early part of the present season and was sold because of his poor stick work to the Athletics, is now with the Athletics. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons.

Feddie Johnson, whose work in the present season did not merit a stay in the Pacific Coast league, has been pitching wonderful ball for the Helena club in the Northern League. Out of four games he has pitched, eight have been victories for him. His work would be a great asset to the Athletics if he were to stay in the league.

Catcher Thomas, another one of Oakland's first-class players, is reported to be doing well with Helena. He is doing the bulk of the back stop work and is showing class. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons.

Godwin Gough, who is a good ball player, was unable to get into shape and did not play in the first game. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons.

Godwin had an offer from Captain Dick of the Los Angeles club a few days ago, but did not accept it at the time. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons. He is a right-handed pitcher, and has been with the Athletics for the last two seasons.

POPULAR GHETTO FIGHTER TO START TO TRAIN AT SHANNON'S

New Yorker a Wiry Looking Chap of the Rangy Type of Athlete—Mission Club After Stanley Keichel.

By EDDIE SMITH.

THE real champion of New York's famous Ghetto is with us. The signs at his place of business, on the East Side, read as follows: "The Leary's of 'The Ghetto'." But to us he will be known as plain Leary Cross.

We are all very glad that Mr. Wallach has been fortunate enough to have acquired a knowledge of the tooth-pulling business and we have no reason to believe that he would not be a great success in that line of the big world where he is so tremendously popular.

At the present time, however, we are more interested with what he can do with his fists, and as the training quarters have already been selected and the work is to begin at once there will be more than a few travel to Shannon's place at San Rafael to watch him in his first work.

Cross looks like a lad of about twenty years, although he boasts twenty-three winters. He is tall and rangy and has the appearance of being a thin, wiry chap, whose strength might be deceptive. He gives his present weight at 141 pounds, but his trainer, Johnnie Loftus, says he will have no trouble at all making the required weight for the Hyland fight and also expresses belief in the fighter's ability to put Hyland away in less than twenty rounds.

Leach has never wandered far from his home before, Philadelphia, being the only city wherein the fighter has appeared outside of New York. His record is one long record of no decision contests, intermingled here and there with a knock-out handed to some poor fighter who had been foolish enough to aspire to championship honors.

Cross is undoubtedly one of the great army of fighters who come and go who never reach the championship, but who are continually reaching for it with uncomfortable nearness for the man who holds the title.

In all his career Cross has never been asked to go over ten rounds, and the new idea of forty-five rounds makes a difference in his fighting. In justice to the fighter it must be said, however, that he shows no outward signs of worry over the length of the battle and in all of his talk he confidently talks of a knock-out.

It is just one year since Hyland and Cross met in New York and no doubt both men feel sure of much improvement since then. It is really funny to listen to the remarks of both men regarding that contest. Cross, according to his story, had all the best of the fight, and Hyland, on the other hand, had the dentist holding on for protection when the final bell rang.

The date set for the final settlement of the argument is the 25th, and either Billy Roche or Eddie Hanlon will referee. Roche was to act, but it is understood that Hanlon has been asked for by Cross.

Hester After Ketchel

Sid Hester of the Mission Athletic Club has sent a wire to Willie Britt offering him $10,000 for Stanley Ketchel's end in a contest with Sam Langford.

Stanley Ketchel has said that he would like to have Jim Jeffries referee the contest, but that he must be satisfied with the referee who is now in the ring when the championship affair comes off.

Ketchel is kidding a bit, for he realizes that Johnson would be crazy to accept Jeffries, and it is a well-known fact that Jeff is prejudiced against the colored champion. He is, however, complimentary remarks about him and his fighting ability.

Coffroth may referee the contest, and if he insists on having the job he will get it, or for that matter I believe both men would be glad to have him, but the chances are that James will be doing the usual thing when the Johnson-Ketchel contest comes off, and that is looking after the comforts of his patrons.

What do you think of four home runs in one game? Going some, eh? That is what happened yesterday at the contest at Santa Cruz. Cobb, who has been stinging the ball with a vengeance of late, is walking right in the tracks of his brother, Ty Cobb of the Detroit Americans.
